

Questions to Be Answered With Numbers

How old do you feel right now?
How many places do you feel at "home"?
How many friends do you have?
How many times have you radically changed the course of your life?
How many things that you've done in your life would you like to take back?
At what time of day does your soul feel best?
How many animals do you own right now?
How many times have you worn your favorite article of clothing?
What was the best year of your life?
How many books are currently on your bedside table?
How many songs have changed your life?
How many pairs of shoes do you own?
How many death-defying stunts have you undertaken?
What is your favorite month of the year?
How many places have you been that have left you breathless in awe?
At what age do you feel you became an adult?
When was the last time you did something for the first time?
How many mentors have you had in your life?
How many things have you NOT done that you would really like to do?
How many times in the past week have you acted spontaneously?
How many words do you need to describe yourself?
How many people do you wish you had never met?
How many things did you learn yesterday?
If you could be any age, what age would it be?
How many people do you truly love?
When was the last time you laughed so hard you (almost) cried?
How old were you when you discovered your purpose in life?
If not now, then when?

And, in a twist on things:

You get to ask one question and one question only. What is your question?